Allegro wins 100Mbps Regional Council service on new Connecting the Coast Fibre Network

Allegro will deliver 100Mbps of internet access to the Sunshine Coast Regional Council, following the delivery last month of the final stage of the Connecting the Coast Fibre Network.

"We are very pleased to secure the Council as the first customer on the new fibre network. This 100Mbps internet service is a first for the Council and for the Sunshine Coast."

Mr Waldie said the win follows intense competition from the incumbent. "We are very happy to be driving competition on the Sunshine Coast. Our next generation fibre + WiMAX network is ruffling some feathers. We are already seeing prices for voice, data and internet coming down. If you run a business on the Sunshine Coast, now is a good time to review your telco costs!"

The Connecting the Coast Fibre Network comprises 30km of fibre network across the key regional centres of the Sunshine Coast. The fibre network delivers Gbps of capacity into key regional centres such as Sippy Downs, Maroochydore and Cooroy and passes key strategic health, education and government sites and telecommunications exchanges.
